Team:

First, based on my review, TJ's comments seem straightforward and self-explanatory. We appear to be on track to need the meeting at 9:30 am tomorrow, but I don't think that we would need to include TJ. I will defer to the preference of others, of course.

Regarding some of TJ's comments:

3.

Ex. 5 Deliberative Process (DP)

More generally:

1. There are TX numbers in the memo right now, even though the labels are for Florida only. Should we add a sentence that says that the TX numbers are for the possible registration of aldicarb in Texas in the 29 months?
2. Since SIAB edits are ongoing, I will review conclusions and summary late today or tomorrow.

Morning team. The aldicarb memo edits from TJ are extensive, and largely pertain to the PCTn/PCT methodologies. OGC has yet to comment and there is still at least one question for RD that hasn't been addressed. The deadline for those comments is noon today. I'd like to get started on edits before then, though.

Here's a new file for us to work from, dated 04Jan2021.

I just saw TJ's email come through with his offer to discuss comments. I suggest we review the edits and if we feel it's necessary to have a follow up conversation, we invite him to the meeting we have scheduled for tomorrow morning.

Talk soon,
Lindsey

I would probably be a good idea to have a hold at least on some time. We don't have to meet 😊

We should invite BCs and Mark, so that they are prepared for questions in the standing 11 am meeting with other divisions and can mention that we are planning to sign (or not) the next day.

I'll hunt for a meeting time.

That sounds good to me, too, Rebecca. I'll hold off until Monday. Would it be beneficial for us to meet sometime Tuesday morning to check in?

Thanks for leading the discussion this morning, Lindsey!

If I had my druthers, I would rather wait until TJ is finished. More ideally, I would wait until Monday when it is also likely that OGC is finished. It is otherwise a moving target until then. It would be awful for any of us to make changes and then a reviewer would want it reversed.

I probably will sign in to look at it tomorrow and see where the reviews are. If it is something 'easy', I will see what I can do with it.

Thoughts?

So do you all think we need to save another copy of the memo to make edits? And should we wait until Monday, when all comments are received? (Or at least until TJ has finished his review?)

Good morning, I'm opening the document now to start cleaning it up. Thanks, Rebecca, for documenting our questions, I'll be sure to remove our back and forth comments. I'll make sure to review the citations, too. I plan to send to seniors, RD, OGC, and BCs by noon today. FYI, I am on leave 2p-4p this afternoon.

Hi everyone, I've made some significant edits to the aldicarb memo. Let's plan to check in tomorrow mid-morning to talk about the status and to address any major concerns. By email should be fine unless there's something big.

I'll stay out of the document for the rest of the day. I'm here until 4p today if you have any questions about what I've done.

Talk soon,

Lindsey

Hi everyone,

Thanks, Lindsey for moving all the pieces around! It must have been a herculean effort to keep it all straight!

Unless there is anything specific for me to address, I am done. Jeana it looks like you are the only person in the doc at the moment. If you are comfortable with where the document is before you leave today, would you mind cleaning it up and sending it out through the meeting invite (but only if you are done)?

Hi everyone, we're almost done!

I've finished making edits for today. I talked with Hope earlier and she says if we're not comfortable what we have today, we can push sending for Senior review until Monday morning. What ever you're comfortable with is fine with me. If you don't end up sending this afternoon, I can give it another look first thing Monday morning. Just keep me posted. If we wait, I think we should aim to deliver this by 9am Monday to give our reviewers one full day to review.

If you send today: please cc the BCs. We are not sending to OGC at this time.

One last thing, I promise. Monisha and I spoke on Teams earlier. She DOES NOT think that our memo should be sent to OGC tomorrow when it is sent to seniors and RD for review. When we receive comments from seniors on Tuesday morning, we will reassess when OGC should review. Thanks-
